Tip of the Week

Classroom Management Plan Reflections

The end of the school year is the perfect time to reflect, review, and even modify your Classroom Management Plan.

Consider the following questions and recommendations:

Attention Signal: Does your signal gain attention from students within 5 seconds? If not..

- Change or reteach your signal. Be sure students understand the 5 second goal.
- Pause and collect eye contact from students. Use nonverbal signals.
- Consistently provide positive feedback and acknowledge students who quickly follow your signal.

Expectations during Activities and Transitions: Are students meeting your expectations? If not..

- Ensure your CHAMPS expectations clearly define what activities and transitions should look and sound like. Practice and post your expectations before activities and transitions, especially those that are problematic.
- Set a goal for how long activities/transitions should take- use a countdown, timer, or song.

Classroom Environment: Does your classroom climate feel positive and engaging? If not..

- Make a list of non-contingent interactions to implement regularly (greet students at the door, sanctioned “chit-chat,” and positive notes, etc.).
- Increase your use of positive feedback (academic, effort, and social).
- Increase your use of intermittent celebrations.
- Consider setting a class-wide goal tied to an incentive.
